Editorial Review

Review

"An excellent overview of the field that brings a solid sense of identity to the profession and would recommend it heartily."

"Neukrug does a good job of orienting students to the Human Services profession by offering them a text which provides a good balance of developmental theories, practice skills, research and evaluation methods, and career information for the present as well as future trends. It is the only text I have seen which covers such a broad array of topics."

About the Author

Edward S. Neukrug is the former Chair of the Department of Educational Leadership and Counseling and currently Professor of Counseling and Human Services at Old Dominion University, Dr. Edward S. Neukrug has taught counselor education and human services for over thirty years. In addition, he has worked as a substance abuse counselor, a counselor at a crisis center, an outpatient therapist at a mental health center, an associate school psychologist, a school counselor, and as a private practice psychologist and licensed professional counselor. Dr. Neukrug has written dozens of articles and chapters in books, has authored eight books, and was the editor of THE SAGE ENCYCLOPEDIA OF THEORY IN COUNSELING AND PSYCHOTHERAPY.
